

UP AND PERSONAL WITH JAY LEHMAN

Personal Statement of Purpose: (Why I exist)

I exist to bring a smile to God's face as often as possible by living in a state of constant submission to his dreams for my life with a commitment to using my gifts and abilities to invest in the positive potential of the people around me, and to use all of life's experiences to develop a more intimate relationship with my creator.

Core Life Values:

Spirituality - God's dream for me is to develop a constant conscious communion with him that permeates everything I think, do and say.

Edge - The center of God's dream for me is just beyond the edge of my comfort zones.

Growth - I want to be a life-long learner about who I am, who God is, and the essence of life.

Character - My integrity limits my potential more than anything else.

Submission - I am a leader second, a follower of Christ first.

Family - My most important leadership responsibility is my wife and boys.

Leadership - I lead to release the inherent potential for good that God has created in the universe.

People - Nothing is more important than people. I never want to allow ideas, structures, or habits to become more important than the people they were designed to serve.

Community - I am committed to exposing myself appropriately and regularly to trusted friends who can help me stay on course with God's dream for me.

Personal Vision: (How God has called me to live out my purpose uniquely)

I believe that God has shaped me to inspire a movement of spiritual communities that live out the transformational essence of Christian spirituality.
